SUMMARY

Would you choose tradition and power or revolution and love? In a world cloaked in ash after a devastating asteroid strike, vampires rule the night—and the day. Riley, heir to a powerful vampire clan in Edinburgh, is being taught to lead with strength and obedience. Her mother expects nothing less. But everything changes when Riley encounters a group of hidden humans who challenge everything she's been taught. Torn between loyalty to her bloodline and a growing sense of justice, Riley must decide: uphold the brutal legacy she was born into, or risk everything for a future she can believe in. Power. Love. Rebellion. In a world ruled by darkness, can love be a revolution?
